THE DWELLING

Double Common is part of the prestigious CG Fry development built back in 1995 to take full advantage of its proximity to the world famous Jurassic Coast beach at Charmouth. As one would expect of the Poundbury developer the house has clean contemporary lines with a traditional aspect combining the practicality of the contemporary and the character of an older period house.

ACCOMMODATION

The property is conventionally arranged with the living accommodation organised around a hall running along one side of the house, a kitchen to the end and a sitting room that flows through to a dining room and garden room to the other side. The sitting room has a fireplace as its focal point equipped with a coal effect gas fire, while the dining room and the garden room are laid to ceramic tile. Doors lead through from the dining room to the garden room while a second set of double doors lead into onto the courtyard garden behind. The kitchen is spacious and equipped with a comprehensive range of floor and wall mounted units and cupboards with integral appliances that include a fridge and a freezer with space for an electric cooker, a washing machine, a dishwasher and a tumble dryer.

Upstairs there are two good bedrooms, the principle of which has an ensuite shower room which is particularly spacious and has a wardrobe to one corner while the other bedroom has use of a family bathroom that has a shower over the bath. The second bedroom also has some good built-in wardrobe space while in addition off the hallway there is a downstairs cloakroom. The property is in good decorative order, has gas central heating equipped with a 5 year old combination boiler and double glazing throughout.

OUTSIDE

To the rear of the property there is a courtyard garden with a Mediterranean feel to it, with steps up to a second terrace. Both terraces make good outside entertaining spaces at different times of the day. Behind the higher terrace a door leads through to a generously proportioned single garage, with storage in the roof and a utilities area to one end. Beside the garage there is parking for a second car with further parking beyond.

SITUATION

The property is in the centre of Charmouth, a short walk down to the beach in this charming seaside village. Charmouth has a number of good shops, public houses and cafes to its centre and lies midway between the former rope-making town of Bridport to the east and the Devon carpet making town of Axminster to the west. The A35 provides the major road link while there are mainline stations at Dorchester and Axminster. Sporting, walking and riding opportunities abound within the area, while the world Heritage site Jurassic coastline stretches all the way along Lyme Bay with Charmouth itself being well known for its fossil finds.
